TWO DECADES OF PARKS PROJECTS

Every year, more than 70 million people visit parks in LA County and participate in park-sponsored recreational programs. Millions of children and youth use park facilities for after-school, weekend, and summer programs, and millions of seniors attend programs at nearby senior centers.

The 1992 parks funding measure passed by LA County voters will expire soon and the County and cities still have unmet needs for parks, recreational facilities and open space—especially in underserved areas.

During the past two decades, while state and federal funding for parks and recreation was decreasing, LA County was able to complete almost 2,000 parks and open space projects, including:

328
new children's play areas

350
new and refurbished
recreation, senior, community
and nature centers

244
trails projects

33,000
acres (approx.) permanently
converted to parks
or open space

110
water quality and water supply enhancement projects

175
tree planting projects (10,000 trees planted)

200
restrooms added or refurbished
